Chief of Staff of the Air Force Gen. T. Michael Moseley wants to communicate with all Airmen his thoughts and concerns about today's Air Force. Check out his new Web page, entitled "CSAF's Scope," in the upper right corner of AF Link (www.af.mil <<http://www.af.mil/>>). The pages have frequent updates with all the latest issues on the chief's mind.

“ The issues on my scope are ones that keep me up at night, ones your senior leaders are working to make sure our Airmen are the best organized, trained, and equipped military force in the world. I will use this forum to fire quick bursts of news so you'll know what I am focusing on now, or will be focusing on soon. I'm excited about the direction our Air Force is heading and I'm proud to have you on my wing as we fly, fight, and win! ”
